About YALAN Seals

YALAN Mechanical Seals, fully named as Anhui YALAN Seal Component Co., Ltd., and with this new name, was founded in 2001 (factory was founded in 1993) as a national high technology enterprise. With over 29 years of design and production experiences in mechanical seal component industry, YALAN has become a professional mechanical seal supplier that owns a full set of the chain of product design and development, manufacturing, sales and after-sales support services.

With continuous innovations, YALAN Seals has accomplished a lot of honor and awards by both national and local government. The company right now has over 15,000 square meters of production facilities, 10 main production lines with over 104 full-time employees in the factory.

YALAN Seals, as one of the top mechanical seal companies in China, created China National Standards of "Shaft Sealing Systems for Centrifugal and Rotary Pumps" (GB/T 34875-2017/ISO 21049:2004) and "Specification for Mechanical Seal of FGD Pump" (JB/T 12391-2015). YALAN Seals is also the council member of China Mechanical Seal Industrial Association.

Production Facility

YALAN production center is located in the beautiful Industrial Park of Dingyuan, City of Chuzhou, Anhui, China. The whole facility is over 15,000 square meters. The production center has 78 full time workers and totally 99 sets of production devices. The whole factory is able to manufacture products of over USD 15 million and has an actual annual output value of USD 13 million per year currently. There are right now 8 full time employees working as a QA team to control every step of the mass production and the purchase of parts and components.

Beside for the production area, the factory has a dedicated city level technical center which is awarded by the local government. The production center is certificated by China national government with national industrial product manufacturing license for specifically mechanical seals. The factory of YALAN Seals has full ability to manufacture almost all kinds of mechanical seal products and we are looking forward to building up long term business relationships with clients all over the world, and to bring high quality "made in China" mechanical seals to the global market.

Products and Services

YALAN Seals provide one stop sealing solution from mechanical seal design to high quality mechanical seal production.

Our seal products have been widely used in different sorts of pumps, including but not limited to chemical pumps, centrifugal pumps, high-temperature oil pumps, clean water pumps, circulating pumps, vacuum pumps, sewage pumps and slurry pumps. Beside for pumps, our seals also work with reaction kettles, submerged motors, compressors, blowers, paper-making equipment, sewage treatment equipment and other rotating machines. We also design and produce slide bearing products for canned motor pumps.
